In order to ensure that this guidance is followed, acquisition processes added required steps to address the allocation of spectrum for a system in design or development (fig. 2). Necessary work to obtain spectrum supportability should be started as early as possible and occur during the technology-development phase of system 26 acquisition. Other steps prevent a system from going into the development and demonstration phase or the produc-tion and deployment phase unless it has a spectrum-supportability determination completed or a waiver granted by increasingly higher levels of government acquisition of-27 ficials. DOD guidance also requires systems purchased off the shelf or through other-than-normal acquisition pro-cesses to have a spectrum-supportability determination be-28 fore they are acquired. These potential limitations of spectrum availability and use in other countries must be consider-ations during the development and purchase of systems, 30 including UASes.
