Wm; Gaston: An Eulogy, Delivered by Appointment of the Officers and Members of the Fayetteville Bar, on Monday, November 11, 1844 I come to praise, and not to bury. The latter hath been long since done - and corruption hath already asserted her irresistible claim. To die is the lot of all men, and no one is denied his share in the inheritance of the grave. But to be praised after death is the property of a few, and a price must be paid to obtain an interest therein. Men give not praises for nothing, either to the living or to the dead. The consciousness of every man that he hath but a short time to live, makes him covetous of a place in the memory of his fellow men, that he may continue to live there, when he shall have ceased to be among them in the activity of life. Among the ancient Egyptians, men sought by the skill of the embalmer to perpetuate their personal identity, after the...

Reviews

This ebook can be worthy of a read, and much better than other. I have read and i am certain that i am going to planning to go through again once again in the future. You may like just how the writer compose this book.

-- Mr. Grant Stanton PhD

A whole new eBook with an all new standpoint. It is actually rally fascinating through reading through time period. You wont truly feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for relating to when you request me).
