Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Analysis of Light: A Force of Nature Although this treatise is entitled Light, there will be no pretense on the part of the author to offer a new theory on the subject. It is, however, the purpose of the writer to present facts, based upon simple experiments, which will positively demonstrate that light is a force of nature produced only by the expenditure of energy. Everything in nature, visible or invisible, moves only by the application of energy. In the case of Light, the energy is always applied upon invisible elements which, without being perceived by the eye, move and communicate the sensation of light by means of the force derived from that energy. The difference between this energy and the force of light will be fully explained. The forces of nature, so-called, are all alike and are really but one force. The seeming variations produced are the direct result of the manner in which this force is applied upon inert matter, the elements and different bodies. This same force, acting in conjunction with certain elements, will produce and impress upon the visual nerves that which is called Light while this very same force, acting upon other gaseous matters, will impart the sensation of sound motion, or give the impression of heat. The difference in the manifestations of these results is due entirely to the nature of the elements upon which and the manner in which the energy is applied. The force, however, is one and the same. This being so, whenever energy is applied, one or more of these results must become manifest. Frequently, light, sound, heat and motion will jointly result from...
