Mittal Publications, New Delhi, 1998. N.A. Book Condition: New. Xxx, 358pp The author, after ten years strenuous research at the grass root level, unravels the untold chapter of Tripura during the period from 1905 to 1952. This is a transitional phase and the book is a connected, comprehensive and illuminating analysis of the growth and development of socio-political movements and conflict within the matrix of pan-Indian historical tradition and change. It integrates the anti-feudalistic and anti-imperialistic struggles by examining their economic roots. It is an analytical, interpretative and comparative study which takes into account the important historical interpretations and some of their models for their proper placement. There are a number of studies which strives to unlock the transformation of one segment or other of princely Tripura's revenue, administrative, political history or British relation, tribal uprisings. But there is not a single work to portray the social conflict and political unrest in Tripura based on research materials in this transitional period. This book is, therefore, the fulfilment of that systematic in-depth study. The socio-political movements in Tripura were very much influenced by the political barometer of the neighbouring undivided Bengal. The book introduced Tripura to the outside world with its peculiar nature of relation with the British, demographic revolution and tribal situation. The influence of Bengal since the anti-partition agitation of 1905 is discernible. Three dimensions of national movements, of 1919-22, 1930-34, 1942-53 served as a turning point in the lives of many people in the state. Besides the effects of the commercial depression of 1930s, economic effects of the two world was as roots of political unrest are analysed. The book also challenges the notion under estimating the scope and significance of the Reang unrest of 1943. The emergence and activities of the socio-political parties are traced and examined...
